

Best Places to Work

Benjamin F. Edwards & Co.

Benjamin "Tad" Edwards IV, CEO and president

We care 100 percent about all of our people's work performance and productivity, but at the same time we care 100 percent about them as human beings. I think that is very special and meaningful to our people, because we want to be a place where people want to be.

We want to appeal to a lot of people, and I think also everybody trusts everybody here. It's all built on trust. It's built on mutual respect. It's all about teams working together, and it's about having fun. That's the culture that we foster here.

We have regular meetings, but I will say we don't have too many meetings. We really don't want a lot of bureaucracy and red tape. We have found over the years that it's hard to really give great service to clients and to our people if we're locked in rooms in meetings too often.
